Kevin R. Hoben, President and CEO, announced that Net Sales for the three and twelve months ended December 31, 2011, had surged over the same periods in 2010 by 21.8% and 15.6%, respectively. The Company has experienced a resurgence in sales since the announcement of its transition of its flexible gas piping products to TracPipe® CounterStrike® within the United States in June of 2011. CounterStrike® is an advanced corrugated stainless steel tubing (CSST) system, which provides an extra measure of safety against the unlikely event of lightning. Additionally, the Company's highly engineered assembly products have seen increased sales, and more recent offerings such as DoubleTrac® have achieved greater market recognition for superior performance and ease of use. The overall growth has been seen here in the United States and also internationally.

Although the final quarter of 2011 showed a decrease in net income of 14%, for the twelve months ending December 31, 2011, net income has improved by 1.8%. The Company has continued to generate solid net income, despite a rise during 2011 in the cost of various commodities that are used in the Company's core raw materials. The Company also had increased spending on a largely non-recurring comprehensive campaign designed to highlight the transition to TracPipe® CounterStrike®, as well as the benefits of CSST in general.
