	=====	=====

Kevin R. Hoben, President and CEO, indicated the Company's 4th Quarter Revenues declined 4.6% from Revenues in the 4th Quarter 2005, but Net Income Before Unusual Items (a non-GAAP financial measure that reports net income before unusual or anomalous items) improved nominally over same period. Revenues for the year increased 12.1%, and Net Income Before Unusual Items increased 27.4% over the same period last year. The decline in Revenues for the 4th Quarter 2006 as compared to the 4th Quarter 2005 reflects the continuing weakness in the residential construction industry. However, the increase in Net Income for the same periods is due, in part, to a decline in unusual litigation expenses.

Net Income Before Unusual Items is a non-GAAP financial measure that represents the Company's after-tax earnings exclusive of items that the Company believes are unusual in nature. Management believes that the unusual items identified, while not necessarily "nonrecurring", are sufficiently anomalous to warrant the presentation of a separate financial measure which allows investors to evaluate the Company's performance exclusive of these items. The unusual items consist of (1) non-recurring stock-based compensation (a non-cash charge to earnings), the obligation for which was cancelled at the time of the "Spin-Off" in July 2005 as explained more fully in the Company's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission; and (2) charges incurred regarding the settlement of the Arkansas class action litigation, including defense costs, also explained more fully in the Company's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The first Unusual Item, consisting of non-recurring stock-based compensation served to suppress earnings $0.03 per share in 2005.

The second Unusual Item relates to the settlement of the Arkansas class action litigation, which was disclosed on Form 8-K filed on September 6, 2006. The costs incurred pursuant to the Arkansas court's final order and judgment approving the settlement, including attorneys' fees and expenses, and the costs directly incurred by the Company in defending the litigation, are identified as Unusual Litigation Expenses (net of tax). These expenses served to suppress Net Income by ($0.01) per share for the fourth quarter and ($0.64) per share for twelve months to date compared to ($0.06) and ($0.13) per share for the same periods last year.

After deducting the above two unusual items, Net Income, a GAAP financial measure, resulted in income of $0.29 per share in the fourth quarter 2006 as compared to income of $0.24 per share in the same period 2005. For the twelve months ended December 31, Net Income per share was $0.51 and $0.74 respectively for the years 2006 and 2005.
