Kevin R. Hoben, President and CEO, indicated the Company's 2nd Quarter Revenues improved 7.2% from Revenues in the 2nd Quarter 2006, but Net Income Before Unusual Items (a non-GAAP financial measure that reports net income before unusual or anomalous items) declined 23.4% over the same period. Revenues for the first six months of 2007 were 3.7% over Revenues in the same period in 2006. Net Income Before Unusual Items (a non-GAAP financial measure) declined 27.5% over the same period. Revenue for the three-months and six-months ended June 30, 2007 reflects growth in the non-residential construction market and price increases realized after the end of June last year, partially offset by continued weakness in the residential construction industry. The decline in Net Income for the quarter and six months ended June 30, 2007 is due in large part to increases in the cost of the Company's primary raw materials and to a lesser extent increased staffing levels and consulting expenses.

Net Income Before Unusual Items is a non-GAAP financial measure that represents the Company's after-tax earnings exclusive of items that the Company believes are unusual in nature. Management believes that the unusual litigation expense item identified, while not necessarily "nonrecurring," is sufficiently anomalous to warrant the presentation of a separate financial measure which allows investors to evaluate the Company's performance exclusive of these items. The Unusual Item relates to the defense of the Arkansas class action litigation, which was disclosed on Form 8-K filed on September 6, 2006 and Form 10-K which was filed on April 2, 2007. Net Income, a GAAP financial measure, resulted in income of $0.18 per share in the second quarter 2007 as compared to income of $0.23 per share in the same period 2006. Net income per share for the first six months of 2007 was $0.36 compared to $0.45 for the first six months of 2006.
